

November Market Wrap

The year is closing in fast & already the last few sales prior to the Christmas recess are upon us.

Firstly, a timely reminder that the last days of receivals for the pre-Christmas sales are next Friday 4th December to ensure your wool is tested in time. For wool to be offered in the first January sale in the New Year, receivals will be required by Tuesday 22nd December, to allow time for testing throughout the recess.

As listed below, most Indicators have closed lower for the month of November when compared to the same period in October. As has been documented in the weekly reports we have noticed a wide range of quotes between the better wools when compared to a line of wool slightly off type. Pending on market fluctuations and requirements these off types can vary from week to week. Quantities over recent weeks have also played a part where some weeks with a smaller offering found the market slightly off the pace. However, the odd larger week saw the market perform reasonably well. A dominant portion of fleece business is still being traded to major Chinese operators, with Europe still keen to make purchases on the best style wools for all micron categories. Skirting's, during this period, have remained very steady for most descriptions; with marginal movement either way. Crossbreds have started to arrive into the market place, and although disappointing with a negative month, prices still remain at strong levels. The major strength has been in the Carding room with all prem shorn fleece wool, combing and carding lambs very strongly supported. Lks, crt's and stain types have also remained keenly sought.
