December Report

The wool market has closed out the calendar year very kindly. The positivity derived from the past couple of weeks, particularly this week, was against all expectations. Hopefully this will transform into 2020. Wooltrade activity has been constant with some previous passed in wools achieving their desired reserves. Some optimistic news externally no doubt played some part this week with the market as exporters covered commitments. Sales now resume w/c 13th January 2020.
